EVERYTHING YOU NEED – AND MORE BESIDES

JahtiJakt have done it again – produced a package of high-quality gear at a price so low that, in the past, we have had members ringing BASC to ask if the offer is genuine.

Well, it is. And the JahtiJakt Premium Hunting Suit offers extraordinary value. The company's founder is an avid hunter who was frustrated by the high cost of shooting clothes in Finland and the failure to meet the real needs of hunters. So these are designed by hunters; they are tough and practical with innovative features such as zip ventilation in the arms and legs that make them supremely comfortable if you have a long walk on the marsh or the hill. They also incorporate new odour blocking technology which really will help to mask your scent from the quarry you are stalking.

For the price the jacket and overtrousers (some of the best we've ever come across) would be a bargain but JahtiJakt provide a complete three-layer package – underwear, mid layer fleece, heavy fleece, shirt and pullover, an excellent cap (forget the Scandinavian style – it works), braces, safety vest. There is even a car seat cover – just because the gear is designed to tackle the worst of wet, mud and snow there's no reason why your vehicle should suffer.

The price for this is £219 plus £11.95 p&p (it's a huge package that arrives) and having given it all a thorough test we can unhesitatingly recommend it. You will find full details in the JahtiJakt advert on page 2.
